DETAILED ACTION

This office action is in response to the submission filed on 2/7/2008. Claims 1-33, 35, 36, 39-51, 55, 56, 58 and 60- 73 are presented for examination.

The Amendment is merely to overcome the 112 2nd rejections. The scopes of the claims have not changed.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this office action can be found in a prior Office Action.

Claims 1-33,35-36,39-51,55-56,58,60-73 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tso et al (Us pat 6,088,803) (hereinafter Tso) in view of Subramaniam et al (us pat 6,640,302) (hereinafter Sub), and further in view of Jamtgaard et al (us pat 6,430,324) (hereinafter Jam).

Tso, Subramaniam and Jamtgaard are cited for rejection, in the last Office Action; the citations, which are applicable, are hereby incorporated by reference.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, see remark page11, filed 2/7/2008 with respect to 112 2nd rejections have been fully considered and are persuasive. The 112 2nd rejections have been withdrawn.

Applicant's arguments, see remark pages 11-13, filed 2/7/2008 with respect to 101 rejections have been fully considered but are not persuasive. Claims 30-33,35-36,39-44,61-73 cites "a system comprises; a provisioning manager...a deployment manager...an inspector..." in light of the specification as a whole (specification figure 5-7, and the corresponding text) a person with ordinary skill in the art would think that the claimed components in independent claim 30, 61 are software components. A system software per se is non-statutory. As states in 2106.01 computer program claimed as computer listing per se, the description of the programs are not physical things. They are neither computer component nor statutory processes, such claimed computer programs do not define any structural and functional interrelationship between the program and other claimed elements of a computer, see Lowry 32 F.3d at 1583-84,32 USPQ2d at 1035.

Applicant's arguments, see remark pages 13-18, filed 2/7/2008 with respect to 103(a) rejections have been fully considered but are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's argument that the prior art does not teach, "a)whether the provisioned content is stored locally or with a trusted third party host b) where the pre-provisioned content is stored with the trusted third party host, retrieving the pre-provisioned content form the trusted third party host and delivering it without additional provisioning."

As of point a, Examiner respectfully disagrees, Tso teaches "whether the provisioned content is stored locally or with a trusted third party host", the claim language is presented in an alternative form, the claim can be read as follows: "whether the provisioned content is stored locally". Tso teaches the transcoded data is stored in a cache (locally) for later retrieval and determining whether the data is in the cache or not (see Tso col.6, lines 49-54, col.8, lines 1-6).

As of point b, Examiner also disagrees, the limitation, " the pre-provisioned content is stored with the trusted third party host, retrieving the pre-provisioned content form the trusted third party host and delivering it without additional provisioning." are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993). The claim did not mention anything about "delivering it without additional provisioning". Subramaniam teaches concept of a border server function as a node a path which forward the secure data from a target server to the client (see Subramaniam col.10, lines 50-55). Taking the secure content (provisioned content) from a target server (trusted third party host) and forward to the client is the same with "the pre-provisioned content is stored with the trusted third party host, retrieving the pre-provisioned content form the trusted third party host and delivering it".

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
